Comments/Reasons

Concern at losing a phone box in what is an isolated spot. The seafront is 3 quarters of a mile long there is not easy access to businesses or houses to borrow a phone etc in case of emergencies. Objection to BT's intention to remove this Phone Box on the basis that there are several safety incidents each year, especially in the summer months, on the beach including people being stuck in the mud, which required the attendance of the emergency services. Whilst some visitors might have mobile phones, network coverage in the area was not always good and the availability of this Phone Box was essential for the safety of everyone.
